

Application No. 10/645,444
Amendment dated April 27, 2004
Reply to Office Action of 04/09/2004
Attorney Docket No. 03-12373

This listing of claims will replace all prior versions, and listings, of claims in the application:

Listing of Claims:

1. (original) A cap having a plurality of gores and comprising:
  - a crown having a inner surface and an outer surface,
  - two or more shade attachment members on said inner surface of said crown near a front portion thereof,
  - a pouch attached to said crown, and
  - a shade contained within said pouch, comprising a central portion, a left side portion, and a right side portion, said left and right side portions each having an upper edge comprising one or more mating attachment members, said shade having a split configuration, wherein said at least one mating attachment members of said left and right side portions are configured and positioned to attach to said shade attachment members during use.

2. (original) The cap as defined by claim 1 wherein said pouch is formed by a fabric member having a configuration of one of said gores and is attached to said inner surface of said crown by stitching.

Application No. 10/645,444
Amendment dated April 27, 2004
Reply to Office Action of 04/09/2004
Attorney Docket No. 03-12373

3. (original) The cap as defined by claim 2 wherein said pouch is pyramid-like in shape.
4. (original) The cap as defined by claim 3 wherein said fabric member is of relatively light weight.
5. (original) The cap as defined by claim 4 wherein said shade has a dove-tail like configuration and is fabricated of light weight material.
6. (original) The cap as defined by claim 5 wherein said shade has a design imprinted on the surface thereof adapted to be exposed when in the unfolded condition.
7. (original) The cap as defined by claim 6 wherein shade is of silk material
8. (new) A cap having a plurality of gores and comprising:
  - a crown having a inner surface and an outer surface,
  - two or more shade attachment members on said inner surface of said crown near a front portion thereof,
  - a pouch attached to said crown wherein said pouch is formed by a fabric member having a configuration of one or said gores and is

Application No. 10/645,444
Amendment dated April 27, 2004
Reply to Office Action of 04/09/2004
Attorney Docket No. 03-12373

attached to said inner surface of said crown by stitching, and a shade contained within said pouch, comprising a central portion, a left side portion, and a right side portion, said left and right side portions each having an upper edge comprising one or more mating attachment members, said shade having a split configuration, wherein said at least one mating attachment members of said left and right side portions are configured and positioned to attach to said shade attachment members during use.

9. (new) The cap as defined by claim 8 wherein said pouch is pyramid-like in shape.

10. (new) The cap as defined by claim 9 wherein said fabric member is of relatively light weight.

11. (new) The cap as defined by claim 10 wherein said shade has a dove-tail like configuration and is fabricated of light weight material.

12. (new) The cap as defined by claim 11 wherein said shade has a design imprinted on the surface thereof adapted to be exposed when in the unfolded condition.

Application No. 10/645,444
Amendment dated April 27, 2004
Reply to Office Action of 04/09/2004
Attorney Docket No. 03-12373

13. (new) The cap as defined by claim 12 wherein shade is of silk material.